Bhubaneswar: To hone skills of its officials, the school and mass education department in collaboration with the Indian Institute of Technology Bhubaneswar (IITBBS) organised a three-day capacity- building workshop for district education officers of the state.

The workshop, conducted by the Odisha School Education Programme Authority on behalf of the school and mass education department, was organised under the SATH-Education (SATH-E) initiative of the NITI Aayog. The workshop, which concluded on Thursday, was attended by 80 participants from all the 30 districts of the state.

School and mass education department minister Samir Ranjan Dash, who attended the concluding ceremony of the workshop on Thursday on its permanent campus at Argul, called upon the participants to join hands and work hard for the development of education in the state.
