There is no love more sincere than the love for food. That's what students at IIT Bhubaneswar believe. And, to showcase their love for food, they organised a food festival on the institute's campus at Argul in Jatni recently. It was organized by the Student Hostel Council. The event witnessed active participation from student community at IIT Bhubaneswar. The event was also graced by institute's director, Prof. R V Rajakumar. "Today, the students have shown that be it creation of unique engineering solutions, technology innovations or cooking, IITians execute tasks at a high degree of standards. It gives me immense satisfaction and pleasure to see their progress on all fronts including successful execution of the event with perfection," the director said. This year, 15 teams had set their food stalls inside the campus. These teams included students from various departments, hostel staff and faculty members. Each team produced some unique items giving the campus residents an opportunity to savour various cuisines from different parts of India.

Mouth watering items were served, which included drinks, starters and main course. They included flavours of Kerala, Andhra, Rajasthan and Odia cuisines.
