

This week, we bring you some common words or phrases coined by students of IIT Bhubaneswar and XIIMB from their campus dictionaries. Exclusively used by the students, these are like cryptic codes that unite the campus and create memories for lifetime.

Cool lingo

COINED ON CAMPUS

1 Pfaff (verb):

The act of saving your reputation by using outlandish and totally unrelated terms in exam papers and hoping for some miraculous step marks.

2 Batchmeets (noun):

The dreaded word which can bring back the laziest students to their toes. A mass gathering called by the Holy PlaceCom or the Student Executive Council to address pertinent issues.

3 X-Walks (noun):

Long walks in the premises of the XIMB campus at the ungodly hours, like at 2am. It is undertaken by a bunch of close friends or couples.

4 OHT (noun):

It is an abbreviation for overhead transmission. Coined by IITians, it refers to a state of mind when a student fails to grasp the meaning of a topic discussed in the class or outside.

5 TNHP (idiom):

It stands for "Tumse Na Ho Payega (You can't do it). When a student fails to crack a code or solve a problem at IIT, his friends use the phrase for him