Bhubaneshwar: A group of students from Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Bhubaneswar, has won the National Budding Innovators Award 2018.

The team, Prajjawala, led by Rahul Kumar, Rahul Mahanot, Rishwanth K and Deepak K have developed Internet of Things and Data Analytics-based price fragmentation, pay-as-you-use and supply chain automation and optimization in LPG distribution system.

This is the second consecutive time that IITBBS has won this award. It will be presented to the team on May 11 on the occasion of National Technology Day at Vigyan Bhawan in New Delhi by the National Research Development Corporation (NRDC).

IITBBS director RV Raja Kumar said, "It is a matter of great pride for all of us to have won the NRDC National Budding Innovators Award for the second time in a row. I am sure this is just the beginning and there is more to come."
