BIO:

Dr.K.Venkatesh is Medical graduate from JIPMER and was awarded a gold medal for MD in Clinical Microbiology. He has vast experience in handling pathogenic microbes that are a direct threat to human health. He is now intrigued by the growing literature on microbes that reside all over us performing healthful functions. In order to understand these human-bacterial interactions, He approached Dr. Bala Ramadass, to pursue his PhD under his guidance at IIT, Bhubaneswar. He is interested in exploring physiochemical aspects of the Gut environment with respect to gut microbiome in human health and disease.
